Reception and Views of Gen. Grant.

New York, Nov. 16.—The Union League of this city have given Lieut. Gen. U. S. Grant a grand reception. He was welcomed at the headquarters of the League last night by one of the Vice Presidents of the organization, Mr. Beckman, who alluded to the foul wrong practiced by the French invasion of Mexico, and insisted that the United States could not honorably do less than apply a remedy by timely enforcement of the Monroe doctrine.

Gen. Grant responded briefly, but took occasion to declare his endorsement of the sentiments of Mr. Beckman as to the future of that country.

Good News—Hon. Bedford Brown Elected Over Hanes by Nienty-Six Votes.

The following special despatch reached us last night, which enables us to announce that Lewis Hanes, whose ingratitude to Governor Holden is most unaccountable, has been beaten in the Fifth Congressional District by that sterling patriot, Hon. Bedford Brown:

Greensboro, Nov. 16.—The official vote of this Congressional District being compared here to-day, the footing up showed that Bedford Brown was elected over Lewis Hanes by ninety-six votes.

Important Decision.

Cincinnati, Nov. 15.—A Springfield despatch states that Judges Davis and Hewfield have made a decision in the case of the claimants of one thousand bales of cotton, residing in New Orleans, Cincinnati and Havre, dismissing all the claims on the ground of the incapacity of the parties to purchase in insurrectionary districts.

Great Fire in Maine.

Portland, Me., Nov. 16th.—A fire in West Baxter, Maine, this morning, destoyed Hall's woellen mills, Lord's saw mills, and House & Bryant's grocery store. Loss probably about $100,000. The fire originated from a kerosene lamp.

Dr. Tyng's Church in New York Burned.

New York, Nov. 16.—Dr. Tyng's church has been destroyed by fire.

SECOND DESPATCH.

New York, Nov. 16.—The loss by the destruction of Dr. Tyng's church is about $300,060, on which there is an insurance of $70,000. The walls and towers are still standing.

The residence of Mr. Bull, Mr. Jackson and Dr. Drake, on Rutherford street, were badly damaged by fire and water.

Latest From Jamaica.

New York, Nov. 16.—Late Jamaica advices received in this city confirm the previous rumor that the rebellion in Jamaica had been crushed. Several of the leaders of the insurrection have been condemned to death, including the chief in the affair, Gordon.

The Government has offered amnesty to those who return to their allegiance, provided they had not committed actual murder.

From New Orleans.

New York, Nov. 16.—Letters from New Orleans state that since the receipt of despatch there from the Rio Grande, there has been unusual activity in military circles. New regiments of U. S. Cavalry have been ordered to report for duty at San Antonia, Texas, without delay.

Pardoned.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Gen. A. E. Jackson, of the late Confederate army, has been pardoned by the President to-day.

New York Markets.

New York, Nov. 16.—Cotton firm, at 50a59 cts.; turpentine dull, at $1.10a1.15; rosin dull at $7.25a 7.50.

Gold 47 1-4 premium.

Colorado Election--Democratic Triumph.

Denver City, October 28.—The enclosed is a transcript of the official vote. The Democrats will probably have the Legislature and the Congressmen, with the entire State ticket. The official canvass of the vote on the adoption or rejection of the State Constitution shows:

For Constitution,	3,025
Against Constitution,	2,870
Majority for Constitution,	155

For negro suffrage,	496
Against negro suffrage,	4,172
Majority against,	3,714

Caucus of Republican Members of Congress.

It is stated that a number of the Republican members of Congress and outside politicians held a caucus at the Astor House, New York, on Saturday evening, and pledged themselves to the policy of excluding every Southern applicant for a seat in Congress that cannot take the test oath. Governor Fenton, according to the correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, is said to have suggested, as a solution of the difficulty, that Congress organize without the Southern members; then, if deemed expedient, proceed at once to so modify the test oath as to enable the applicants to take their seats with a clear conscience; but the meeting was not prepared to go that length, rather preferring for the present to back up Mr. Clerk McPherson in omitting the Southern States from the roll-call, and trusting to subsequent events for their admission on conditions that will be acceptable.

Debt of the Southern States.

A statement of the Southern States (legal) debts prior to the war places them at one hundred and fifty millions. The most of these bonds are held in Europe, and the prospect of payment, even of the interest, is small indeed. Of these bonds $20,000,000 belong to Mississippi, $9,000,000 to North Carolina, $5,500,000 to Louisiana, and $56,-000,000 to Virginia.

—Dr. Walker, Superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum at South Boston, Massachusetts, is up before a committee of the alderman of Boston, charged by Oliver Frost, Esq., with causing the death of his son by ill-treatment while he was in the asylum.

Henry Wirz.—The effects of the late Henry Wirz were yesterday afternoon sent to his wife, in Kentucky, by his counsel, Mr. Schade. They consisted of a book entitled "Meditations on Life and its Religious Duties," with this inscription on the fly-leaf: "To my dear children, Susan and Cornelia, from their father, H. Wirz, Washington, D. C., Novemver 10, 1865." Next was a copy of the New Testament, which contained the following inscription: "November 10, 1865, to Cora, from her father, H. Wirz." Also, a volume entitled, "A Kempis. A Treatise on Christ. To my dearest child, Cora, from her father. Washington, November 10, 1865." There was also a Bible given to Wirz, on the fly-leaf of which was this inscription: Presented to Carroll Prison, room twenty-nine, for the use of the prisoners. Not to be taken from the prison. Washington, D. C., December 18, 1864. 'Search the Scriptures.'" Under this Wirz had written as follows: "My dear wife, this Bible I read to where you see the marks, where I left off reading. God bless you. Keep this Bible to remember me. H. Wirz, November 10, 1865." In the package there were also two letters, one addressed to his wife, and one to his father, Abraham Wirz, who was living when his son left Switzerland.

Disposition of Naval Vessels.

The Navy Department have concluded to divide up such vessels as it is necessary to keep in the service into small squadrons and locate them upon the various seaports on both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, this policy being better than to allow them to be huddled together and fall into disuse at the Navy Yard. Out of this has grown the absurd story that our government were looking out for an immediate foreign war.

—Edwin Booth will play in December.

—Emigrants at New York last week: 9,800.

—Edwin Mott Robinson's estate foots up $5,700,-000.

—October brought the country 3,700 pension cases.

—It is rumored that Ole Bull will soon re-visit this country.

—The cost of collecting the Internal Revenue is more than four per cent.

—There are 1,100 taverns in Washington, one for every ninety-one inhabitants.

—Wild turkeys are said to be more plenty this season, than for many years past.

—Two negroes were arrested in Norfolk on Sunday for stealing a trunk and $1,400 from the residence of W. H. Whitehurst on Friday night.

—A guest of the Exchange Hotel, Richmond, has been arrested for stealing the blankets and sheets from the room he occupied.

—Gen. Butler who has just settled in Washington city, is the tenant of a colored man, the house he lives in belonging to Alfred Lee, a wealthy colored citizen.

—The names of Ex-Governor Kirkwood, Gen. Fitz Henry Warren and A. W. Hubbard are mentioned in connection with the Iowa United States Senatorship.

—Gen. John C. Breckinridge is reported to be living at St. Catherine's, Canada. The Louisville Journal has reason for anticipating his return to Kentucky at an early day.

—A man in Ohio attempted to drink two pounds of whisky in one hour, on a wager, but twenty-eight ounces finished him. The betting parties were arrested, and ought to be hung.

—The Hartford Times, Chicago Times, Cincinnati Enquirer and Buffalo Courier, all leading Northern papers, are advocating the assumption of the Confederate debt by the United States Government.

—Gen. Kilpatrick will visit Europe before going as Minister to Chili, and probably have a talk with the Spanish Government about the relations between that Power and the South American States.

—The steamboat opposition on the James river has ceased, there now being but one line, and the fare $2 50 between Norfolk and Richmond. Two lines are continued on the Bay, between Norfolk and Baltimore.

THE CITY.

☞ Persons in city and country are requested, at all times, to furnish us verbal or written information of any events of public interest which may transpire in their neighborhoods, or of which they may have knowledge.

Fourth Congressional District.—Official Vote. The vote cast at the late election for a member of Congress for the Fourth District was compared at the Court House yesterday, all the Sheriffs being present with the exception of the Sheriff of Franklin. The following is the vote as returned:

	Turner.	Rus.	Edwards.
Wake,	460	1324	64
Granville,	659	254	184
Nash,	285	98	10
Chatham,	600	322	12
Johnson,	188	612	00
Orange,	1069	45	2
Warren,	508	7	8

According to the provisions of the law, the vote of Franklin may be added if returned to-day, but if not reported by sundown this day, it will be thrown out. Upon the above returns, however, Josiah Turner was declared duly elected.

A Few Figures.—We have frequently adverted to the extravagance of the rates of house-rent in our city, because we know that they constitute one of the drawbacks to the prosperity of Raleigh and must in the end seriously affect the permanent, substantial interests of property holders. But to show the justice of the complaints we have made, a citizen here and native of North Carolina has supplied us with these figures:

Rent of house before the war,		$ 350.00
" " during "	in Confed.	4500.00
" " demanded now,		1900.00

in gold or three thousand dollars in national currency.

We have these facts from two as responsible parties as can be found in the South—gentlemen of unimpeached veracity—and who are now engaged in an enterprise of some magnitude. It will be seen that the modest landlord only wants five or six times the sum he realized previous to 1862.

This is a fair index, we understand, to the general spirit manifested by men who have houses in this place. The effect is to drive capital and enterprise from our midst, and thus utterly destroy the bright future which had been predicted for this section.

We are truly glad to hear that no such mania has taken possession of Charlotte, Wilmington, Newbern and other points. The people elsewhere appear fully to appreciate the importance of attracting population, encouraging enterprise and inviting capital, but here there is a disposition to exact as rent the full purchase value of houses.

We ask those who are contributing to such a condition of affairs to reflect on the matter. They cannot fail to realize the injustice of their course or to see that it must ultimately destroy the real value of all property hereabout. Half rates contrasted with their present prices will pay them far better in the end.

Keeping Store.—The Washington Republican has the following:

Last evening a party of gentlemen were conversing upon the subject of the capabilities of the southern negroes for obtaining a livelihood, when an officer lately from Raleigh, N. C., related that as he was passing along the streets the other day he saw an aperture in an embankment just large enough to admit a person in a crouching posture, and over his doorway was suspended by a string one apple and half a dozen peanuts. Upon looking in he discovered an old colored man who had about a peck of apples, a few sweet potatoes, and peanuts ditto. He asked:

"What are you doing here, uncle?"

"Oh, I'se keepin' stoah, Boss."

"Well, how much money do you make?"

"Oh, Boss, I make enough to keep me from beggin'."

Upon further inquiry he found that the profits of this "stoah," which was simply an excavation with a small chimney to carry off the smoke, ranged from forty to fifty cents per day, which was sufficient to keep its enterprising proprietor from begging or starving.

The Author.—The authorship of the petition for the pardon of Mr. Jefferson Davis, which we mentioned as circulating here, was attributed to one of North Carolina's distinguished women. The truth is, it was penned by Mrs. Fanny M. Downing, whose novel, "Nameless," is creating such a furore in the literary world. We make the correction as a matter of right to all parties. Mrs. D. is a Virginian.

Singular Change in Butter.—It is not a little noticeable that since butter has held at its present high price, it has taken a great deal of salt to flavor it. The fact is the salt is a good deal cheaper than the butter, and so a liberal salting pays. It has come to such a pass that one can't eat much butter without making of himself a salt-cellar.

The Sun.—It may be rather far off for a local item, but there is a very large spot now traversing the sun's disc, which is visible to the naked eye about sunset. It looks about as big as a tea cake, though the telescope gives to it astonishing proportions. The phenomena of spots on the sun have never been explained, we believe.

Auction Bills, Business Cards, Circulars, Bill Heads, and in fact printing of all kinds done at the Progress Office with promptness and in the best style of the art; and as our facilities for printing are more extensive and better than those of any other establishment in the State, at lower rates than the same can be done elsewhere.

On Dit.—A negro was arrested yesterday by that efficient city officer, Wm. C. Parker, upon charge of stealing horses. His name is John McGuire and he hails from New York. It is now believed that he is the ringleader, the chief of the desperadoes who, about a month since, visited the house of Mr. Harry O. Parker, near this city, and besides plundering the premises of money, whipped that gentleman and his wife and committed other outrages. The negro was turned over to the military authorities, who thought so highly of the rascal as to treat him to a pair of handcuffs and a splendid fob chain with an inconveniently large ball attached to it.

Our hope is that the surmise with respect to the guilt of McGuire may not turn out to be a fable. The military authorities have proceeded with particular caution and marked determination in this affair. From the day when the offence was committed up to the present hour, they have pursued the idea of bringing the guilty wretches to justice and we have every confidence that, if possible, they will succeed.

How is It?—We referred yesterday to the great difference between the price of beef in and out of the market. A more striking fact still is related to us by a lady respecting bivalves. At the market and most other points three dollars a gallon is the ruling price for oysters. Now, Mr. Lewis, at the express office, retails them, best quality, at two dollars. Here is another screw loose—how is it? The latter is content with his profits and we must conclude the $3 sellers are too lofty financially.

Small Pox.—We hear that at Camp Holmes and the classic region known as Vinegar Hill, the small pox is raging to a considerable extent. We learned also that a case in the neighborhood of the North Carolina rail road depot was reported yesterday afternoon. The best remedy against small pox, cholera and other loathsome and fatal diseases is cleanliness.

Look Out for Him.—When you find a man writing his advertisement and sticking it up at the post office, or in hotels, or on street posts, instead of publishing it in his town paper, look out for him—the very act shows that he is too close fisted to deal with to advantage. This is the "frozen truth."

Still Falling.—We saw very fair beef offering in the market yesterday, by the quarter, at five cents per pound, and no buyers. The scarcity of money will necessarily cause a decline in prices generally.

Hon. T. L. Clingman was in the city yesterday and looking well.

—[illegible] Etheridge has not been acquitted, as was reported. The finding in his case is in the hands of General Thomas, and has not been divulged.

—Two negro women in Memphis recently appeared in a police court, to settle a dispute in regard to a child. Both claimed to be the mother of the infant. Solomon settled a similar case very easily.

—A daughter of the rebel General Pettigrew has received an appointment as clerk in the Treasury Department.

—Mrs. Maximilian of Mexico, recently reviewed the Mexican troops in a carriage that cost $40,000. It was constructed entirely of glass and silver, and the inside lined with white satin and gold lace. She's expensive to somebody.

—A Paris paper denies the report that General Beauregard had tendered his services as commander of the Papal army; and it is now rumored in Europe that General McClellan has offered to accept the position.

—The Government has come to the conclusion that the employment of female clerks is a failure.—The women are given to more display in dress, to flirting and courting, than to hard work. They will probably be succeeded by males soon in all the departments.

—A man who has nothing better to do, has calculated that the entire amount of the national debt in silver dollars would weigh down 125.000 tons, and that laid side by side, the coins would go four times and a third round the world.

—The English publishing house of Ruthledge & Sons have just issued a volume entitled "Men of the Time," in which, among other startling facts, the reader finds that General Sherman was compelled to abandon Atlanta, and fleeing eastward escaped to the sea.

—The principal cities of the Union rank in order of population, according to statistics in the Interior Department, as follows: New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Baltimore, Chicago, Boston, New Orleans, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Buffalo, Newark, Louisville, Albany, Washington, San Francisco, Providence.

—Gen. Grant is reported to have said at Cincinnati, in speaking of the arrest of Dr. Huston, the Kentucky clergyman, "I have ordered his unconditional release. It is time that military arrests and military commissions were at an end. We are now at peace, and if any citizen commits any political offence he should be taken before the civil courts and there be tried for his crime."

—General Longstreet, on Tuesday, had an interview with General Grant, and subsequently visited the State Department, where he took the amnesty oath, which is preliminary to the consideration of his application for pardon.

MARRIED,

On Tuesday, 14th inst., by Rev. Dr. Craven, Mr. JAMES C. KING and Miss LAURA S. GORMAN, both of this city.

DAILY PROGRESS.

RALEIGH. N C.

FRIDAY, NOV. 17, 1865.

South Carolina All Right.

They have statesmen in South Carolina, in fact have always had them, and we are glad to see that those of the present day seem to realise the situation and act with a degree of common sense. The Legislature has adjourned until the 25th instant, but, before the adjournment, that body passed the Constitutional Amendment, and, as the telegraph informs us, with but slight opposition. This is as it should be, and we say, all honor to South Carolina for it. Tennessee and other States that profess to have had a vast amount of Unionism all the time, hesitate and dally, but South Carolina, the first to strike a blow, comes up manfully to the work. She has passed the Constitutional Amendment, and now if she has or will ignore the rebel debts and conform to the other reasonable requirements of the national authorities, she may present her Senators and Representatives at Washington with a reasonable hope that they will be received.

Gentlemen here who profess to be behind none in their devotion to the Union, admit that while they are willing that the Constitutional Amendment shall be ratified by our Legislature, it will be a bitter pill. Why bitter? We think it should be done willingly, cheerfully, and that it is but right and proper that those who control the Government demand it, for we want the everlasting question of African slavery buried so deep that the "last trump" can't reach it.

After the example of South Carolina will our Legislature hesitate? We trust not. Let those who compose that body come together, then, with a determination to forget the past, let bygones be bygones, and perform their duty as patriots. The Constitutional Amendment should be ratified on the first day of the session—it should be done by a unanimous vote. Do that and we may get a representation in Congress, but fail to do it and there is no hope.

ATLANTIC RAILROAD.—We call the attention of the managers of the Atlantic Railroad to the constant complaints which we hear are made by shippers, in regard to the detention of their goods. We allude to it for the special benefit of the road. We learn that a large number of merchants who have suffered by the detention of their goods, have determined to direct them hereafter by the way of Petersburg and Wilmington. We beg those concerned to prevent it by removing the difficulty as soon as possible. A Wilmington commission merchant remarked to us the other day that the Wilmington forwarding merchants were delivering goods at Goldsboro' and Wilson in three days from New York, and at Raleigh in four days.—Sentinel.

We know nothing about the truth of the above complaints, but we do know that the President and Superintendent of the Atlantic and North Carolina rail road are gentlemen of energy and ability, and that they will do all in their power to give quick dispatch to freight and satisfaction to the business public. It may not be generally known to the public that the Company received the road in a dismantled, dilapidated condition, and that cars, engines, tools for the work-shops and other material, had to be obtained before the corporation could be placed in a condition for business. In turning over the road the Government authorities withdrew their rolling stock, engines, &c., thus leaving the road with only the remnant of its original equipments, which had been pretty well run down in the "Confederate" service; and, with such meagre facilities, it is not to be expected that the road should be worked as promptly as desirable. The Directory, however, have taken steps to repair these difficulties, having themselves become security for a large amount of money to procure the necessary engines, cars, &c.

This road was the last in the State that was turned over, and this delay gave other companies the advantage in the purchase of rolling stock from the Government. The Directors, however, have promptly complied with all the suggestions and requirements of the President and Superintendent. Those gentlemen are energetically at work to place the road on a solid basis, and we ask for them the indulgence of the public until they shall have had time to put the road in order for the prompt transaction of business.

The new President, Mr. C. R. Thomas, has been a member of the Board of Directors for a number of years; Mr. W. H. Harvey, the Superintendent, has been connected with the road for several years, and we suppose that no one who know these gentlemen will doubt their ability or disposition to manage the work with promptness and satisfaction. If business men will be indulgent for a very short time, we doubt not but the dispatch in the shipment of goods by the Newbern route, to Raleigh and all the interior towns, will be all that they could desire.

SECRETARY OF STATE.—R. W. Best, of Greene county, has been appointed Secretary of State by Gov. Holden. Mr. Best has qualified and entered upon the discharge of the duties of his office. He is a gentleman of ability, and will no doubt make a good officer.

Send him to Europe to look after the payment of those "Confederate" bonds, so-called, in which British capitalists invested.

State Items.

The Intelligencer is the name of a new and sprightly weekly paper printed at Danville and Yanceyville by Nordendorf & Co. We wish them success.

We recorded several days since the fact that a daring attempt at murder and highway robbery had been made within a short distance of Fayettville. It appears that while the accommodation Warsaw hack was on its way to Fayettville, seven miles distant, a daring attack was made by a highwayman upon the passengers. From a gentleman, an occupant of the coach at the time, we glean the following particulars concerning the affair: A well dressed man, mounted on a sorrel horse, rode alongside of the stage and demanded of Mr. H. N. Baker, the proprietor of the line, and sitting at the time on the front seat, his "money or his life." No answer being given, the demand was repeated, and immediately a shot was fired, striking Mr. Bowes, an inside passenger, on the hand. The villain continued to fire shot after shot, all the time riding around the conveyance and taking deliberate aim, until he had entirely expended the contents of his revolver. The result of his attack is as follows: The driver, a colored man, mortally wounded; H. N. Baker, mortally wounded, besides one of the horses disabled. The intention of the man seems to have been to reload and again make an assault, as he rode forward evidently with this design. But the approach of travelers on the road seems to have somewhat unnerved him, and turning off he disappeared in the woods.

Speaking of the result of the late election, with Mr. Seward's despatch to Governor Holden as a feature of its text, the Salisbury Banner says:—"Could it not have been fairly inferred at Washington that Governor Holden was defeated by those who were first and foremost in the secession party? The test has been applied—an opportunity was offered us and we have thrown away the chance. Our people have our sympathy under all circumstances—we shall strive in the future as in the past, for their best interests—but dark clouds lower over us. God grant that they may be dispelled, but we fear that our path is a dark and difficult one—but while we feel a sadness inexpressible, let us even now resolve to do that which befits us, viewed in the light of reason—let us persevere unto the end.

Rev. James Sinclair is out in a prospectus, proposing to issue at Wilmington, 15th December, a newspaper to be called the Southern Freedman, and, of course, to be devoted to the interests of the colored people.

A petition to the President, endorsed by many of the most influential citizens of New Hanover county, and by the greater majority of the city of Wilmington, is now in circulation, asking commutation of sentence against McGill and McMillan, tried before a military commission some weeks ago, for the murder of Mathew P. Sykes, of Bladin county, in April last. Other counties in the State have similar ones in circulation, and it is supposed there will be fully ten thousand names sent forward praying in behalf of these men.

Col. Clinton A. Cilley has been assigned to the chief command of the Freedmen's Bureau for the District of West North Carolina, headquarters at Salisbury.

We learn that the trial, by military commission, of Mr. Baines, of Caswell, charged with murder, has been concluded at Salisbury. The decision has not yet transpired. The prisoner was defended by Hon. J. T. Morehead and Colonel Morehead. The Harris arson case will be tried next. The prisoners are defended by Major V. Barringer and W. H. Bailey, Esq.

The remains of Col. J. A. Graves, who died at Johnson's Island, were escorted to Yanceyville, on the 5th, by the Knight Templars and Blue Lodge of Danville, and interred with masonic honors.

At Yanceyville the other day they had a tournament and ball, at which many of the fair sex from Caswell and other counties in North Carolina and Virginia graced the occasion with their presence. The following is a list of the Knights who contended for the honors: Felix Roan, Knight of the Lone Star; Jno. G. Lea, Knight of the Bleeding Heart; Dr. J. A. McAdin, Knight of Caswell; Nath. L. Johnston, Knight of the Red Cross; Rob't H. Williamson, Knight of the Valley; Jno. B. Smith, Knight of Southern Star: Thomas Lea, Knight of the Forest; J. M. Poteat, Knight of the Black Hawk; J. A. Henderson, Knight of the Gray Steed; J. E. Robertson, Knight of the Silver Cross; G. G. Bradsher, Knight of the Cosmopolite; Logan Totten, Knight of the Old North State; S. Blair, Knight of the Iron Mask; W. P. Hooper, Knight of the Star of the West, who were to carry the two balls and ring, as with lance in rest, they tilted for the prize.

Proclamation having been made by the heralds, some fourteen Knights entered the list. The course was one hundred and fifty yards in length, and the time thirteen seconds to run it in—all, we believe, made time. The contest was an animated one amongst the Sir Knights as to which should have the honor of naming and crowning the Queen of Love and Beauty, and her first, second, third and fourth Maids of Honor. Nath. L. Johnston, Knight of the Red Cross, being declared the victor, named Miss Anna Phippen, of Richmond, Va., as Queen, and Miss A. Carnes, Miss Signora Thornton, of Milton; Miss Sallie Williamson, Miss Ann Lee and Miss Marion Long, were respectively named her Maids of Honor, by Robert H. Williamson, Knight of the Valley; John E. Robertson, Knight of the Silver Cross; Felix Roan, Knight of the Lone Star, and John G. Lea, Knight of the Bleeding Heart.

The Queen and her Maids were among the most charming of North Carolina and Virginia's lovely daughters.

It appears that one Frederick Powers, from this State, has been arrested and locked up at Norfolk, for attempting to kill his wife. In attempting to arrest this desperate character, the Captain of the Watch was compelled to use his "billy" pretty freely on the head of the unruly character, who, with knife and pistol in hand, defied the officers in quest of him. Mrs. Powers stated she had married the man in Perquimans county, N. C., about two years ago. He first joined the Confederate army, from which he deserted, joining the Federal army, and has lately procured his discharge from it. The man is said to be evidently unlevel, and his wife stated fearful her life would be taken if he was set at large, in consequence of which he was not admitted to bail, and was locked up.

The U. S. Supreme Court Bench.

There is a vacancy in the U. S. Supreme Court bench, occasioned by the death of Judge Catron, of Tennessee. The Petersburg Index, in referring to the matter, thus urges the appointment of one of our own distinguished citizens:

"Prominent among these, occurs to our mind the name of a distinguished lawyer of our sister State, Hon. B. F. Moore, of North Carolina—a gentleman whose reputation in his profession has no equal, we believe, in his State, and whose practical judgment and extensive acquaintance with the history and structure of our government, point him out in a special manner for service in a tribunal whose decisions frequently involve the most abstruse, delicate and keenly controverted questions of political philosophy.

North Carolina may fairly lay claim to this distinction at this time, many of the other States of the South having been complimented, to her exclusion, with similar appointments, and it is a fortunate circumstance, as well for her honor as for the reputation of the position, that she can present a candidate so exalted in qualifications and so unexceptionable in character as Hon. Mr. Moore.

"If, finally, the unfortunate inquisition into antecedents is still to be pursued, Mr. M. has, on this score, a peculiar fitness for the post. He has been marked throughout his whole life by a genuine conservatism, and his course in the late Convention of North Carolina, of which he was confessedly the leading spirit, demonstrated how heartily he accepted, and how willingly he conformed to the existing state of affairs.

Election Returns.

The returns come in slowly, not one-half the State being yet heard from officially. Mr. Worth is a few thousand ahead, and we think there is no doubt about his having received a small majority of the votes cast.

The following gentlemen are certainly elected to Congress: C. C. Clark, 2d District; T. C. Fuller, 3d; Josiah Turner, 4th; Bedford Brown, 5th; S. H. Walkup, 6th. This leaves the 1st and 7th to hear from; it is believed that Dr. Speed is elected in the 1st, but we have no returns from the 7th. None of the gentlemen known to be elected will be able to take the test oath, nor do we suppose that the State will send a single man to either branch of Congress that can. We could have wished that it was different, and it might have been, but the copperheads and secessionists are perverse and self-willed.

HOW THE PETITION BUSINESS IS MANAGED.—There has always been more or less humbug connected with obtaining signatures to petitions for any matter, but the visiting of schools and taking children's names as the applicants for pardon of great criminals is, we believe, something new in this line. The "petition" for the pardon of Jeff. Davis, with the signatures of "fifteen thousand Baltimore ladies," was managed in this manner, and was carried around to several private schools in this city, and the names of a number of little girls were obtained, many of whom are unable to fully comprehend what they did. Some of the signers are only seven or eight years of age. Probably the city directory and the tombstones in the various graveyards around the city have also contributed to swell this "fifteen thousand."—Baltimore American.

A similar petition has been circulating here, and we believe the same rule applies. When a house is visited, if the petition is favorably received, the whole family is registered, regardless of age—the name of the infant in the cradle and its mother both being put down. The ladies, everywhere, are full of sympathy, and always foremost in good works, but we really think that the best thing that the friends of Jefferson Davis could do would be to let his name rest.

OUR HANDKERCHIEF, JEEMES!—The waggish fellow that engineers that sprightly sheet, the Salisbury Banner, gets off the following at our expense, though we must say that all he says about the superiority of the PROGRESS and our modesty is true as gospel:

Rich.—Our cotemporary of the Progress says that moral worth is not appreciated by the people, because he was defeated for the Convention and Mr. Moore for the Legislature.

Pennington very often indulges in humorous irony; this is the most modest specimen we have seen. We would suggest that perhaps the reason why he was not elected is, that he hid his light under a bushel and the people could not "see it," for it is well known that he is as modest as he is worthy. There is one thing, however, that they should appreciate, and that is, that the Progress is the best paper for news in the State, and is edited with much ability and an adroitness of which even Bennett might be proud.

GENERAL SICKLES.—A Washington despatch of the 12th says General Sickles having received orders to report at Washington, reached here yesterday morning, and at once had a protracted interview with the President and Secretary of War. He left here last evening for the South on important business connected with the government. It is rumored that he will shortly be relieved from his present command and be assigned to another important command.

The Future of Richmond.

The Richmond Whig, in an article on the past, present and future of Richmond, closes as follows:

It is very manifest that Richmond has a future—a great future. With all the new impulses to energy created by a stern necessity; with all its advantages as a commercial and manufacturing town, now better known to the North and to the world, than ever before; the great centre of the trade in that valuable staple, tobacco, as well as of the other agricultural products of the State; the centre, too, whence railway communication radiates in all directions; the terminus of the James river and Kanawha canal, adjacent to some of the largest and most valuable coal mines in the world, the time is not far distant when Richmond will be a great city. Before the lapse of two years we predict that in many respects she will be in advance of the Richmond of the anti-evacuation period. By that time the greater part, if not the whole of the burnt district will be rebuilt, and she will exhibit whole streets of new buildings with all the modern improvements. The new ideas, the spirit of enterprise abroad in the world, will then have rushed in, and infused vitality and vigor in all the departments and branches of business. In ten years the growth and improvemet of the city will be so striking that those of us who are living will come to think that the great conflagration was a blessing in disguise. The dead, if quickened into life, would not recognize it as the Richmond of their day. By that time the organization of the labor system of Virginia will have been perfected and in successful operation. Improved agriculture will have taken the place of that old and slovenly mode pursued under the system of slave labor. Numberless small farms will have been carved out of the large and cumbrous landed estates for which Virginia has been celebrated. Every available acre will have been brought into cultivation, and that cultivation will be to the highest point of production. Population will have poured in from every quarter of the civilized world, and that population will be of the highest character for intelligence, enterprise and skill. The productions of the State will have been multiplied ten-fold. Of that greatly increased trade, this city will be the recipient. This city will also be the chief point of interest on this continent, to all European travellers. Thousands of persons, both from abroad and from the North, will flock here to view those localities that have become classic as the scenes of battle. Johnston's, Lee's and Beauregard's strategy in defense, Grant's and McClellan's strategy in assault, have shed a lustre over the whole country adjacent to Richmond. There is not a spot that has not some memorable association connected with it. The track of that stern, tireless, christian warrior, Jackson, and of that radiant cavalier, as debonair as brave, the beloved Stuart, will become as familiar to travellers from abroad as to the proprietors of the soil. The skillful Cicerone will realize a fortune by exhibiting these interesting localities, and recounting the stirring and memorable incidents connected with them.

BURNING OF THE MUSEUM!
LETTER FROM MR. P. T. BARNUM!

NEW YORK, July 14, 1865.

Messrs. Herring & Co.:

GENTLEMEN—Though the destruction of the American Museum has proved a serious loss to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage that "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your well-known safes have again demonstrated their superior fire-proof qualities in an ordeal of unusual severity.

The safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest of the fire.

After twenty-four hours of trial it was found among the debris, and on opening it this day has yielded up its contents in very good order—books, papers, policies of insurance, bank bills, all in condition for immediate use, and a noble commentary on the trustworthiness of Herring's Fire-Proof Safes.

Truly yours,
P. T. BARNUM,

HERRING'S PATENT CHAMPION SAFES.

DAILY PROGRESS.

FRIDAY, NOV. 17, 1865.

The Rebel War Debt.

The following, which the people of the South will do well to read and ponder, is from the Baltimore American:

It is announced that Georgia, following in the wake of Alabama and North Carolina, has repudiated the Rebel war debt by a vote of one hundred and thirty-three to one hundred and seventeen. The debates upon the subject were acrimonious and decided, showing that there is yet no genuine appreciation of the legal status of the States while dominated by the Rebels. It seems hard for the late citizens of the Confederate States to realizes that the Confederate States was a myth—had no legal existence—were incapable of making a contract—had no right to confer office or power, and that all State officers whose oath of office pledged them to the support or the ordinance of Secession, or the Constitution of the Confederate States of America, were bogus, and without more authority than would have been possessed by a band of robbers. Their original act being null and void, all acts done in pursuance, or by virtue thereof, are likewise null and void. The principle upon which the supporters of the Rebel debt desire to act is exemplified in the statement of John Phenix:—"If I owe the landlord anything I will freely eat it out with him." Having first plundered the United States, and borrowed money on the strength of securities belonging to the United States, and with the money so obtained made war upon the United States, and being caught in flagrante delictu by the United States, they propose to the injured party that it shall pay the debt incurred in carrying on the fight.—Owing the landlord a large sum they "will freely eat it out with him."

They talk of their honor and use other State platitudes which had a meaning once, but have lost force for want of example. Did they think of "honor" when they forbade any Southern merchant to pay the debts due by him to Northern creditors, when they took his bills payable to Northern private citizens and confiscated them to the use of the great rebellion? Where was honor then? Honor demands that men who did such things shall never mention his name again. And yet, men who could repudiated private obligations, and as bodies politic confiscate them and prohibit an honest debtor who wanted to pay from paying his debts, talk of the debt incurred by them as a body politic in making war against the Union as a debt of honor. They have still the leaven of England about them and remembrances of the feudal system. We will cancel their obligations of honor if that is all, by giving them the assurance of a highly respectable nation, known as the United States, that they do not owe anything—that at the time they went in debt they were lunatic, and of unsound mind and understanding, neither capable in law of borrowing or lending, of sueing or being sued, and we will back that by Andrew Johnson's protest. He says it cannot be paid, and it cannot therefore be.

It is surprising how persistent some of these people are. The President has had to notify Governors Perry, of South Carolina, and Sharkley, of Mississippi, that they must continue to exercise the functions of Provisional Governors until further orders, notwithstanding the States have elected Rebel Governors, who have had to be pardoned to make them eligible. We are glad to see that the President is not disposed to let go the reins of power which control these States until Congress shall have an opportunity of acting with them.

There is an evident disposition on the part of some of the Southern leaders to give trouble, and being adepts at conspiracy some of them are trying to deceive. They make earnest protestations of their willingness to carry out the wishes of the President, but they delay the doing of it in hopes of some how or other escaping the necessity. The Ledger correspondent, from Washington, says:

"In certain influential quarters I hear that all of the States have been advised not to repudiate their debts, or pass the Constitutional Amendment, but to send on their Senators and Represensatives, and let them take the chances."

We have no doubt there is a grain of truth in this, perhaps more. The New York Democrats were promised the offices if they carried the State. They did not carry the State, and, of course, cannot test the veracity of the promiser. The Southern Rebels may be under the same tutelage by confidential advices. If that be so, we warn them not to trust them. The great mass of the Union people will insist on their compliance with the President's demand. They have got to help to pay our debt, and must repudiate their own.
